ESWD user access

Full and supporting members receive user access to the European Severe Weather Database (ESWD). Prior acceptance of the ESWD terms of use is mandatory for data access. This has to be declared in a separate user access request form.

Tax deductibility of membership fees and donations

As a non-profit research organisation, the ESSL e. V. is also entitled to provide donators and members with formal contribution receipts for their donations and membership fees – which makes the donations and membership fees tax-deductible. The formal contribution receipt will be sent to each member after the end of the calendar year.

To aid the ESSL in fulfilling its statutory purposes, donations to the ESSL are encouraged. Donators should clearly indicate their name and address on the bank transfer forms, to enable the ESSL to issue a valid contribution receipt. In addition, the reason for payment on the bank transfer form should indicate "Donation", and may also indicate a specific branch of ESSL activity: "ESSL" (general), "ESWD" (database), or "ECSS" (conference).
